Aero

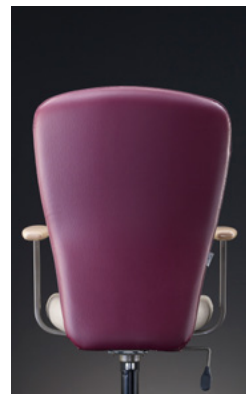

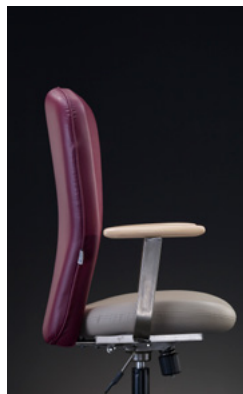

Aero is a compact, yet sturdy and comfortable task chair. Widely radiused smooth edges and curved seat and back are the main elements of design and comfort in this chair, making it value for the money product. The back is much broader at the top, giving extra support for the shoulders and then narrows down at the base. These desired shapes are achieved by the moulded foam of seat and back encasing a moulded compressed wood structure. The T-shaped armrests and the oval-shaped metal embossed revolving base go well with the chair's entire look. The Aero series also has a varied option of a nylon mesh enveloped over a well-designed pipe frame structure or back woven with PVC strips.

Aero

The armrests of Aero series are in line with an elementary and minimal form of a T-shape. The armrests body is made of a rectangular pipe, and the handcrafted solid wood handles are very basic and user-friendly. These handles are also available in black polyurethane.

The Aero family also includes a set of non-revolving cantilevered chairs suitable for cosy offices. These compact chairs are available both with and without armrests. A very unique cantilevered continuous running seater works best for the reception areas of offices, lobbies of hospitals, polyclinics, or other public spaces.
